ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

The Art of Living has created Project Pavitra- an initiative for enhancing adolescent girl's menstrual health and hygiene. The project aims to generate awareness amongst adolescent girls about menstrual health and hygiene via sensitization programs in rural areas and urban slums.

The vision of the project is to empower girls with knowledge and awareness on menstrual hygiene to manage their menstruation in a hygienic way in privacy, safety and with dignity at home, at school and in the community.

OBJECTIVES OF THE EVENT

- To make females are aware about the normal phenomenon of menstruation
- and menstrual health and hygiene management, while eliminating social taboos.
- Help them abide to healthy eating and physical fitness lifestyles
- Inculcate a sense of confidence, pride and honour in being a female

Health and Hygiene Program for Adolescent Girls is a 3 day program of 90 minutes per day to sensitise girls between the ages of 11 and 19 years on the issue of menstrual hygiene. The workshops focus on teaching management of mental and physical aspects of stress experienced by girls due to menstruation by teaching them:

- Pranayama to reduce premenstrual tension (increased irritability, bloating and cramps.
- Yoga asanas to keep PMS, excessive or scanty blood flow under check.
- Diet for having healthy periods and regaining lost nutrients (using locally available food items (to avoid anemia and weakness).
- Games and skits to help girls dispel myths and superstitions surrounding this natural phenomenon in a playful manner.
- Maintaining adequate menstrual hygiene using local resources.

OUTCOMES OF THE EVENT

- This sensitization program provided the information to know how to handle menstruation, improved girls' knowledge of personal hygiene and boosted their confidence by answering their unanswered questions through interactive and engaging training methods.

OBJECTIVES OF NAVA CHETANA PROJECT WORKSHOP

Nav Chetna Shivir (also called the Breath-Water-Sound workshop) seeks to address the challenges of economically and emotionally distressed communities by empowering them with the tools and techniques they need to fight these challenges. The first step towards empowerment is helping them with stress-elimination and building their inner confidence. This is where this workshop comes in.

Nav Chetna Shivir is The Art of Living's primary outreach program. From the ghettos of Chicago to the inaccessible tribal regions of India, over 2 million people across the world have benefited from the workshop. It is instrumental in bringing people together, inspiring them to serve and to participate in the development of their communities.

Simple breathing, sound relaxation, and meditation techniques are taught to relax the individual. These techniques teach people how to handle negative emotions such as anger, regret, and depression. By dealing with these emotions, there is a sense of peace and relaxation. What follows is mental clarity, confidence and focus to find creative and innovative solutions for challenges faced in the rural areas – be it substance abuse, infrastructural problems or lack of essential amenities.

When empowerment starts with individual transformation, it is sustainable. Empowered people naturally lead their communities towards progress. Over the years, we have seen entire communities undergoing metamorphosis and bearing testimony to the power of the Breath-Water-Sound workshop.

OUT COMES OF THE NAVA CHETANA PROJECT WORKSHOP

In the camp, the students were taught concentration techniques by way of meditation for a relaxed and stress-free mind. They were also taught yoga and pranayam techniques for a better physical and mental health. The students were also briefed about the knowledge points enunciated by Sri Sri Ravi Shankar, Padamvibhushan Awardee, a renowned Spiritual Guru, humanitarian leader and the founder of International Art of Living Foundation.

3 days 8 hours committed sessions with interactive lectures on enhancement of mental and physical skills were other features. Teachers of AOL focused on the state of mind of youth and how to handle emotional stress and skills required for the success of human beings and interacted with the students and informed them about soft skills and domain knowledge.
